*Gardner Webb College
Boiling Springs, North Carolina
75th Anniversary Issue*

1980

In a year of controversies, turmoils, and troubles, between nations, people and governments, we find a small world continuing on, virtually unaffected by the outside and essentially at peace. This haven, blessed by God, holds a reigning calm, even though it has pressures and problems all its own. This is where we think, eat, and sleep. This is the world we breathe. These are the Days of Our Lives.

The man who tries to be good, loving, and kind finds life, righteousness, and honor.

Proverbs 21:21

How much better is wisdom than gold and understanding than silver.

Proverbs 16:16

Never forget to be truthful and kind. Hold these virtues tightly. Write them deep within your heart.

Proverbs 3:3

*A true friend is always loyal and a brother is born to help in time of need.
Proverbs 17:17*

When a person is gloomy, everything seems to go wrong; when one is cheerful, everything seems right!

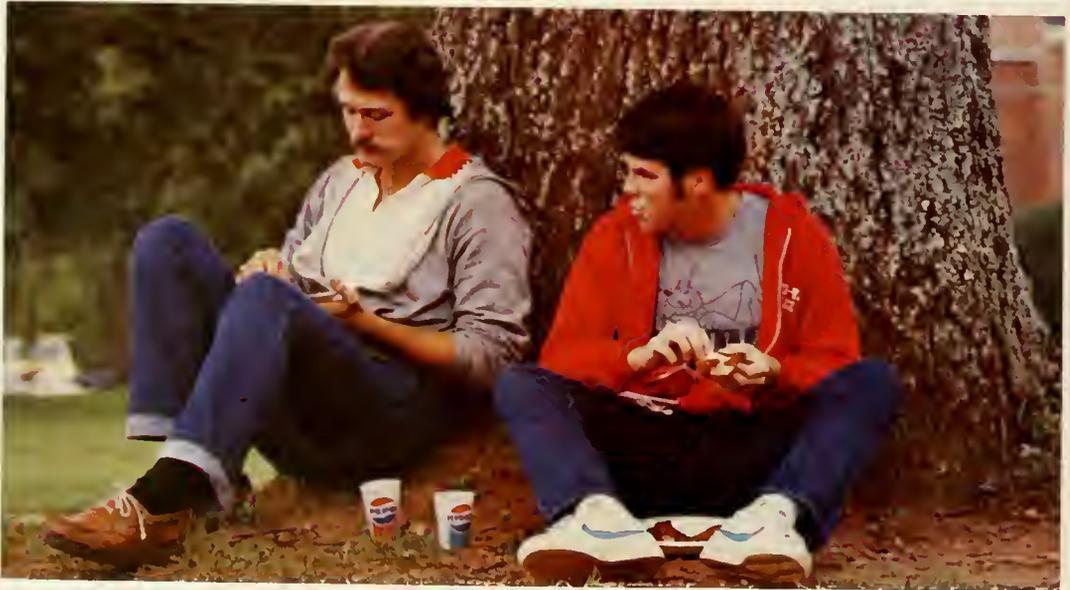

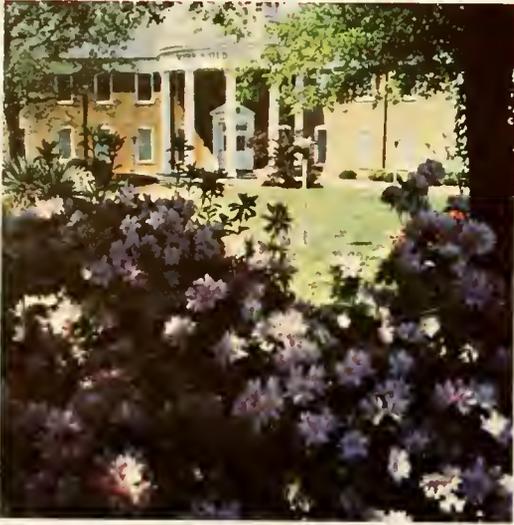

Proverbs 15:15

Reverence for God gives life and happiness.

Proverbs 19:23

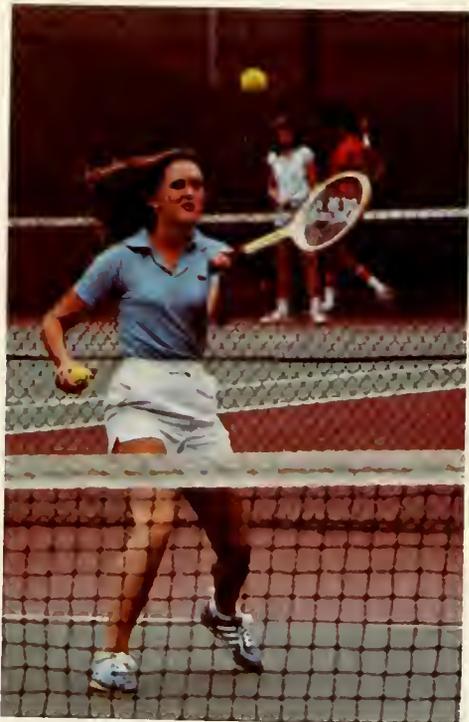

The man who knows right from wrong and has good judgement and common sense is happier than the man who is immensely rich!

Proverbs 3:13

*This annual is dedicated to Boiling Springs, North Carolina in appreciation of
its continued support and loyalty.*

THE GUIDING LIGHT

PAPER
CHASE

DR. CRAVEN E. WILLIAMS, President

Q. What attracted you to Gardner-Webb?

A. In my own personal timetable, I felt like I was ready to accept a challenge. This was a North Carolina Baptist college and I am a North Carolina Baptist, so that obviously had a direct appeal to me. It was terribly important to me from a personal sense of responsibility to my family and to my career that I be placed at a college which had the basic ingredients to withstand the inflationary pressures of the 1980's.

Q. How would you characterize yourself?

A. That's a very difficult question for me because I just don't find myself thinking about myself very much. I have thought about this college for 4 years and higher education for 15 years. I don't spend much time assessing myself. I think that one might say, based on personality and lifestyle, that I'm a very intense person. I think that I'm a competitive person. That has carried over into my daily work which suggests that I believe I have to make up with intensity, effort, and hustle what other people can do with natural talent. I would like to think that it's true that I am an open person. I would not want to think that anybody was afraid of me in any way though, inevitably, there may be some apprehensions about the office.

Q. How would you like students to perceive you?

A. There are times when I get terribly uncomfortable, times when I'm alone and I realize I'm dealing in futures. It's a very unsettling thought that there are 1450 people out there whose futures I may be affecting. That gives me a sense of real humility and sometimes apprehension. I hope that the students will believe the genuineness of my feeling that there's little else as important in life as serving their future developments through leadership of this college.

Q. In order of importance what are your personal and professional priorities?

A. For me, living is the church, my family, and Gardner-Webb College, and there are certain circumstances where one takes precedence over the other.

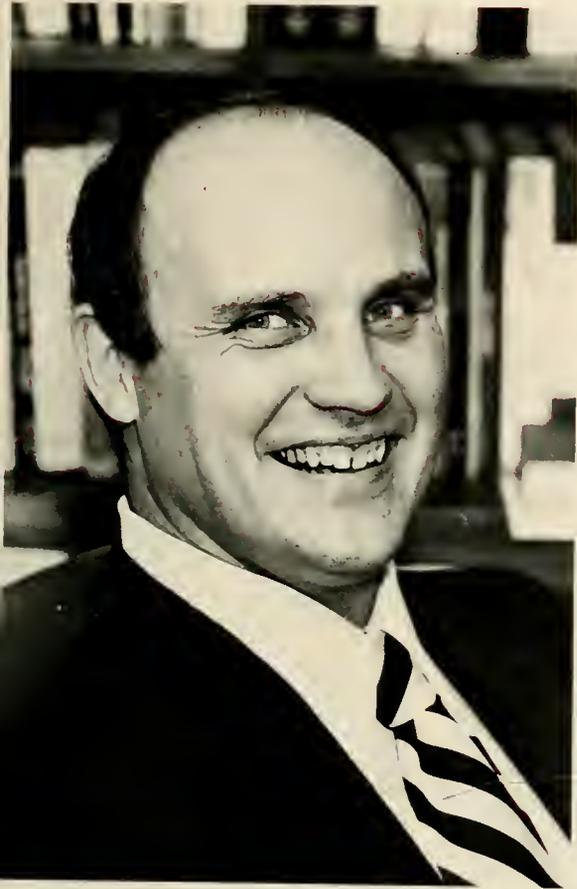

Q. You are relatively young for such a prestigious position, what does the future hold for Dr. Craven Williams?

A. I've had other opportunities, even since I've been here. As yet, I have not had any more interest than returning the call and saying, "Not interested!" Every bit of personal ambition that I now have is always involved with what I hope we can see happen for Gardner-Webb, especially to make our graduates as intensely sought after as any other graduates. My ambitions are ambitions for the college. It's a very peaceful kind of feeling, too.

DR. ROBERT E. KNOJJ

Vice President, Academic Dean

Q. What kind of changes do you foresee at Gardner-Webb in the 80's?

A. I see a gradual change coming in the student body toward a wider range in the age of the students. There will be fewer younger students and more older students will come to complete a degree. This will cause the college programs to diversify by starting with where the student is and broadening his horizon. Different curriculum will be developed to meet the needs of the older students which will include graduate programs. Also as Gardner-Webb grows up as a senior college, the academic requirements will increase.

Q. What are the daily administrative duties of the Academic Dean?

A. Working with the academic program, first by meeting with students who have problems. Also, I like to teach and I try to teach a course each semester. To summarize, I try to have a sense of where we are and where it would be good for us to go in order to organize our efforts to get there, and to give every person enough room to find their own way to achieve those goals. I do realize that as a community, we have to have some goals in common to hold us together.

Q. How do you personally handle the pressures of your position as Academic Dean?

A. It is important that I keep outside interests going; I tend to be an athletic person, and I find a lot of satisfaction in outside activities. Personally, I like the activities that are very competitive, that allow me to lose myself, like basketball. I also like the activities that allow me to be alone to think. I also love to be with my family, to see them grow. I enjoy spending time with them, it gets my mind off my work.

Q. What are your goals and what motivates you to realize these goals?

A. I am personally and professionally an educator. I deeply believe in the goodness of education, but I also know its limitations. You can teach someone what is morally good, and that does not make them a morally good person. Learning does change one's outlook on life. Personally, my goals are better understanding myself so that I make better contributions to others.

Q. In order of importance, what are your personal and professional priorities?

A. I continue to place a priority on trying to better understand my children. I want to be informed about what they want and need, which are not always the same thing. I try to be gentle, helpful, and constructive with them — the same in being a husband, trying to treat my wife the same way. I want to learn more about myself and others. Primarily, I put a high priority on trying to gain a sense of vision; what could we do that is special — here is a standard that others could look to and learn from.

The Big Event

The carnival was the real beginning of Homecoming with many groups and clubs participating, using booth and game activities. Sherri Williams, Sharon Godsmark, and Worth Carson are among those who worked and enjoyed the festivities.

Following the carnival, there was a parade and some of the participants were Homecoming attendants, GWC cheerleaders, class floats, Bulldog Band, and majorettes.

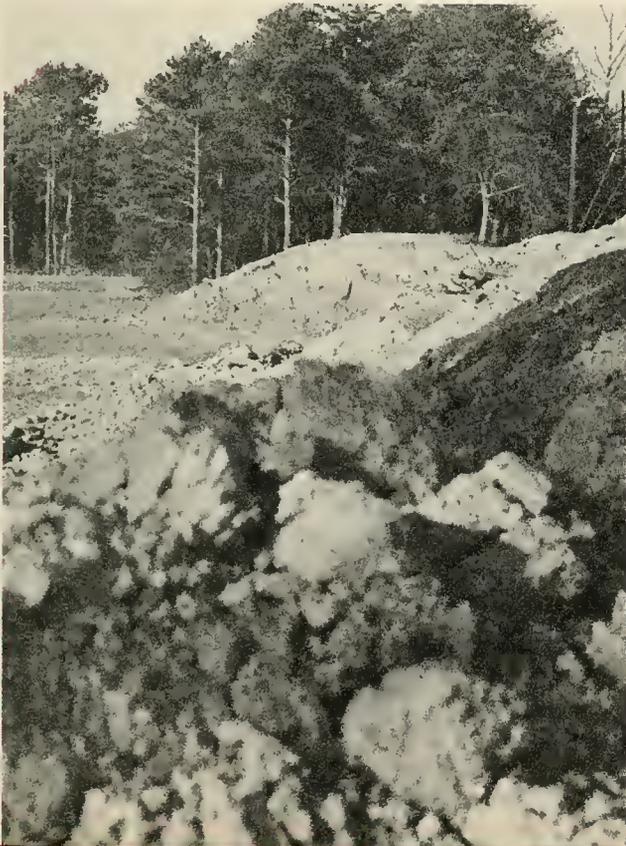

*"Name
That Tune!"*

At the end of the parade a large crowd gathered on the new Convocation Center site for the impressive groundbreaking ceremony. It was revealed in the many speeches that the projected date of completion will be in 1981.

Delana Gray from Kinston, N. C. was crowned by Dr. Williams as the 1979 Homecoming queen. Her escort was Johnny Norris from Statesville, N. C.

Delores Long was the Senior attendant. She is from Lincolnton, N. C.

The Junior class attendant was Audrey Awtry, Siler City, N. C.

Tammy Gabard from Winston-Salem, N. C. was representative of the Sophomore class.

Representing the Freshman class was Janet Bates from Union, S. C.

Balloons started the game. Hot sun and a sprinkle of rain ended it!

HISTORY

Gardner-Webb is in its seventy-fifth year, having opened in 1905 as Boiling Springs High School under ownership of the Kings Mountain and Sandy Run Baptist Associations.

The school became a two-year college in 1928, with four major buildings in use and a student body of 237.

The college entered into a new era in 1942. The Board of Trustees renamed the institution Gardner-Webb in honor of Governor O. Max Gardner, his wife Mrs. Fay Webb Gardner and their families.

In 1946 the college was admitted into the Baptist family of colleges, and the charter was changed to conform to the Constitution of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

Dr. E. Eugene Poston was elected to head the college in 1961 and announced The Decade of Advance, 1961-1971. At the close of that ten-year period the college had reached virtually every goal proposed in 1961, and is now a fully accredited senior college.

IN MEMORY
JOHN BORDERS

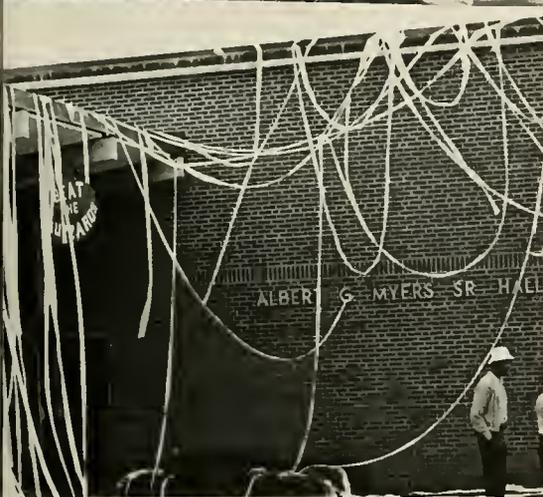

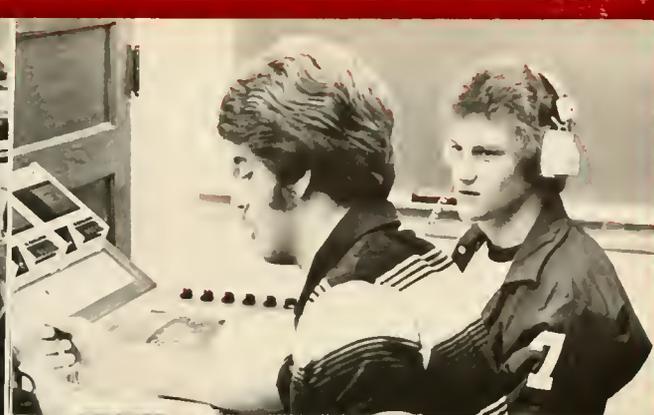

During the time I knew John I had a great deal of respect for him. He was the type of guy that seemed faultless. The qualities that he possessed seemed endless. John was dedicated, spirited, honest and well-loved by everyone that knew him.

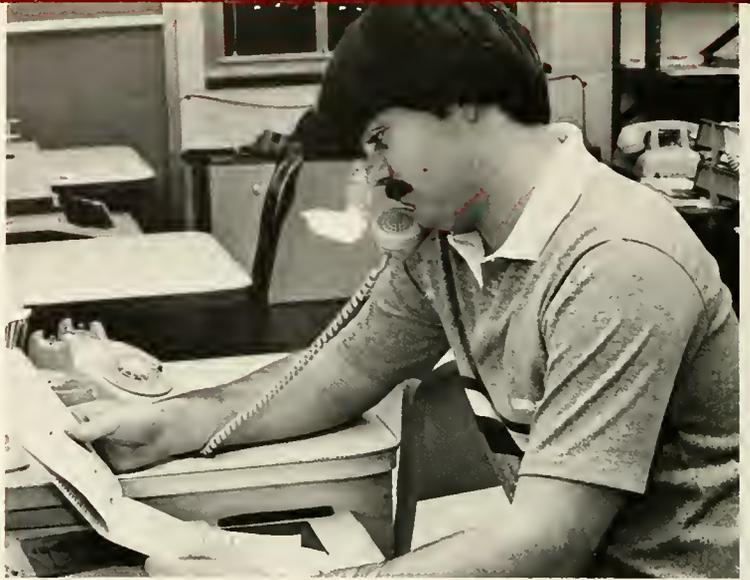

We experienced many good and bad times together in the three years we played basketball for Gardner-Webb. I will never forget the quality person that John was, and he will be greatly missed by all who loved him. May his spirit live on.

HAPPY DOING MY THING

Of the Heart

The year has reached its end—

The parties have been celebrated the birthdays, all wished away
the kind words have been written the sweet thoughts, all smiled upon the anger has been smoothed over
the hurting wounds, all healed
the tragic love affairs are fading
the hugs, all embraced
the kisses, magic is dimming
the talks, all discussed at length
the experiences have been learned the depressions, all behind the hill
the excitement has died away
the dreams, all still asleep . . .

Everything seems so unimportant now
when placed beside the knowledge that our love has been given to each other,
making us all a part of one another
and never quite separable.

Being a belated and inexperienced staff, we stepped in to salvage an annual that might have never been. Various individuals have contributed to the yearbook at different times possibly causing a lack of cohesiveness. We have definitely depicted the confusion that is characteristic of the whole year. In addition, we hope to have related some of the unique feelings which are typically Gardner-Webb. We hope to have captured one moment that is special to you.
